Community Organizers Wanted

Anyone interested in a career working for community change to apply

The Direct Action & Research Training (DART) Center unites people together to powerfully address the systems that create and perpetuate injustice. We have built powerful community organizations in Florida, Ohio, Michigan, Virginia, Kentucky, and Indiana.

By combining on-the-job experience with classroom instruction, the DART Organizers Institute has become a national leader in developing superior, professional community organizers. Graduates of our program have led sweeping changes across major metropolitan cities on issues such as affordable housing, accessible healthcare, equitable public education policies, and others.

If you are seeking a career in community organizing and possess a passion for service and community change, then we encourage you to apply for the DART Organizers Institute.

To find out more, please visit the “Become an Organizer” section of our website: www.thedartcenter.org or call DART at: 785-841-2680.
